1. Claims 1-28 are presented for examination.

Applicant is reminded that claims 26-29 have been renumbered to claims 25-28.

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-25 and 28, drawn to an apparatus for assigning sequence numbers to values produced in the order of issuance of the value producing instructions, classified in class 712, subclass 214.
- II. Claims 26 and 27, drawn to an apparatus for allocating registers to values produced, renaming registers when software pipeline boundary is crossed, and skipping allocation when zero iteration loop is found, classified in class 712, subclass 241.

3. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons: Inventions of group I and group II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the invention of group I can be used in a system without the register renaming when software boundary is crossed. The subcombination has separate utility such as use in a system without the sequence number assigning.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and the search required for one group is not required for the other group, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
